Graphic Design Placement Student, Belfast

Based in Belfast, the Graphic Design Assistant will support the Head of Marketing by creating visual concepts, using computer software to communicate ideas that captivate and inform our customers globally. The student will get the experience to work with our external agency on key campaigns but will also be encouraged to develop new concepts for new markets.

This is a great opportunity for an undergraduate who wants experience of all elements of the graphic design mix – such as digital graphics, publications (such as case studies & guides), photography, video and moving graphics. The successful candidate will take on a range of key administration activities to aid in the smooth running of the team.
